(PRWeb) March 28, 2007 -- On Saturday, March 31st at 3:00 p.m. Central time, Barack Obama, candidate for President of the United States from Illinois, will be speaking to a small group gathered in the home of an Iowa family. Although the event will be streamed live at <http://www.barakobama.com>, it was all also be "simulcast" in the virtual world, Second Life at SoHo Island. The simulcast will feature a virtual Obama, sitting in a virtual living room, addressing a crowd of avatars within the simulation.

Forefront Media describes the event, "Although the simulcast of Obama's Community Kickoff campaign will be attended by virtual avatars, real people create and move the avatars through the game and real people will be watching the simulcast on their computer screens." Forefront Media continues, "Involving gamers with the political process is important, as Second Life provides the perfect environment for free speech. Simulation of the real world event here on SoHo Island gives this world an opportunity to participate in the political process."

About:

Forefront Media owns and operates SoHo Island and other properties within Second Life. Forefront Media is virtual event and promotion company with offices in Dallas, Texas, and Ft. Smith, Arkansas. The purpose of Forefront Media is to integrate "real world" events and media into the virtual world, Second Life.

The Community Kickoff Campaign is the start of a series of community gatherings by Barack Obama, built around the theme "Hope, Action, Change." The campaign is designed to help make change and restore hope in the political process.

We are sitting amazed at the oratory skills of Barack Obama and of Hillary Clinton in their head on race for the US Democratic nomination. The skills these two are showing in their speaking opportunities are well developed and are pulling audiences together. Have you ever wondered how they got to be that good? Have you ever wondered what unique forces of nature combined to create these two skilled people, and have you ever wondered what sort of upbringing they had to herd them to where they had no choice but to be the leaders they are? I do. I also want some of that for my kids.
